Big Kicks & Sub Bass

There are no right ways to approach the low end thumps and bumps, and it can be fun as well as enlightening to explore different methods of generating those dramatic bass moments, which is what has been the guiding idea for this sample pack. The main principle was to grab a source and see how far it would bend.... The folders of loops, one shots and multisamples are described below.

Kick Drum Hits

Layered kick drums were tweaked in Kontakt and then processed as a single drum via a chain of plugins which always contained the excellent reFuse Lowender plugin and the UAD Precision Enhance Hz. Other ingredients included compression, saturation and reverb.

Loops

Sub bass basslines were created with synths and the Arturia B-3 organ (the HamSub loops/multisample) to mix in with a beat. Though the upper tones are not strictly sub bass, they all have an amped up sub-octave to wobble the woofers.

Moogerfooger Sub Drops

A simple set of seven hand-wrung bass drops from a self-resonating Moog MF101 lowpass Filter, followed by the MF102 Ring Modulator tuned to some version of the fundamental. These were hand 'dropped' (i.e. the frequency knob was turned anti-clockwise!) and then shaped with Cableguys' Shaperbox Volume module.

Multisamples

Six of the seven bass instruments used in the Loops folder are included here as whole tone, 2 octave multisamples, starting from the lowest tonally useful note. The seventh instrument in the Loops folder is the PearlKickRes, which is made from a Pearl SY-1 Syncussion analogue drum synthesiser I rebuilt for someone many years ago and sampled heavily before returning it.
